

THE RETURN

THE FRONTTEST LINE

Just a quick word of thanks as we settle into the busiest two weeks of our season. Covid has presented a challenging environment for all of us to navigate and no one has felt that more directly than our Lodging and Front Desk teams. From the moment we reopened to the public back in June, you have all worked very hard to keep yourselves, coworkers and, ultimately, our guests as safe as possible and we appreciate it.

Under the best of circumstances, our Front Desks can be challenging work environments and trying to keep guests happy, informed, and getting them on their way to their vacations is a process that requires a deft touch, finesse and patience beyond our years. That challenge is not lost on me and neither is how lucky we are to have this team in this place.

I appreciate your hustle, during these busy holiday weeks and always.
