Overnight weather in the form of freezing rain coated most surfaces on the mountain. By 8am Russ and Patrol were ready and raring to go. Craig and his team from Lifts made a valiant attempt to open the mountain. The upper mountain surfaces were sub-optimal, and it would be tough to check the lines on the other upper mountain lifts, so Patrol and Lifts focused on the lower mountain Zone Lifts. SS Carpet, Chalet Park and two trails off the Taxi lift were in fine shape thanks to Grooming and Park Crew staffs. A challenging day for all, but because of the hard work and dedication of Patrol, Lifts, and Grooming, and some I'm sure I missed, Ski & Ride School was able to fulfill all the Private Lessons we had on the books along with the dozens of Irish kids we have in lessons. Not a single guest asked for a lesson refund today including the upper mountain lesson that decided to take a Park lesson instead. All were smiling and successful, though perhaps a bit damp. Thanks for the help today!
